

ARTISTS' BIOGRAPHIES

Ann May Kelly

Ann May Kelly - Graduated from Moore College of Art and Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts. Show work in South Jersey. Facebook: annmaykelly

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Ann annkellypainter@yahoo.com .

Aulona Goxhaj Scanzello

Aulona Scanzello is a writer, artist and graphic designer. She has two books of poetry published in the Albanian language, has had her paintings featured in various gallery settings and exhibits and is mainly a self taught artist. She is married and is the proud mother of an almost three year old boy and works as a Face Painter and Balloon Twister with her and her husband's entertainment agency.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Aulona aulonagoxhaj@gmail.com .

Bonnie Rovere

My name is Bonnie Rovere and I am the current President of the South Jersey Camera. I am also a founding member of the Hot Flashes photography group. I have been taking and making photographs as long as I can remember. I like all genres of photography but shooting nature is where I am the most happy. Facebook: Bonnie Rovere

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Bonnie ImAHrsLvr@aol.com

Brian Hissem

Brian Hissem is a photographer who specializes in capturing people, places, and things, from coast to coast. He strives to achieve a unique outlook on the world around him, as seen through his lens. Website: brianhissemphoto.com /Facebook: Brian Hissem Photography

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Brian brianhissemphoto@gmail.com

Carol Goberman

Carol Gartzman Goberman, Graduated from Moore College of Art and Design in 1977 with a BFA in Illustration. I worked in advertising after graduation. Owned and taught at The Art Depot, Inc. in Merchantville, NJ 1987-1998. I have continued to teach adults. I now teach my class at The Markeim Arts Center in Haddonfield, NJ. I also do portrait commissions of people and animals. I work in oils or pastels using light, shadow, reflections in soft colors. I reside in Haddonfield, NJ with my husband where we raised our four children and now help raise my two grandchildren. www.cgfineart.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Carol artistc714@aol.com.

Charles "Bud" Lamielle

Voorhees resident since 1975. Retired DOD employee. Studied photograph at Camden County College under the Senior Citizen Program.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Bud buddyboy1942@live.com .

Cheryl Tracy

I have been documenting my life experience through the camera as far back as I can remember. Photography is my passion as well as my life line. It connects me to the world and allows me to take comfort in the knowledge that the past was real and not just an imagined experience. I see myself as an image scavenger, continually looking, searching for images other might not recognize as interesting through beauty or decay. My approach to capturing these images is simple. It is like taking a deep breath. Whatever the moment, I simply allow myself the time to be and to listen for that quite thought that says "yes". By presenting my work, my wish is to show you the observer, the personal moment I have experienced. I hope you can enjoy it in the same way I have. www.ctracyphoto.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Cheryl ctracycreative@gmail.com

Jaymi Vilardo

Jaymi is a senior at Audubon high school interested in being an illustrator or art therapist.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. This work is not for sale.

Joan Wheeler

My passion for photography began in high school many years ago. I have worked for a newspaper, captured portraits of people and pets, photographed action sports, landscapes and worked with non-profits I love everything about photography, from the planning, capture, post production and printing. I think what most excites me is showing the audience my view of the world through my photographs.

www.joanwheelerphotography.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Joan joanwheeler1@mac.com.

Joanne A. Lafferty

Have studied art at the Academy of Fine Arts, Sanski in Haddonfield, also with Phyllis Hewitt, currently at Markeim with Carol Goberman. Have done juried shows. Affiliation withthe Center for the Arts, Cherry Hill Art League , PA Academy of fine Arts. Former chair ,Cherry Hill art League. Painting Sales, Juried Shows, Designer Homes, William Ris,Gallery, Jordan Smith Gallery, Ridge Valley Gallery, Critiques Stone Harbor, Designer Houses, Moorestown Garden Club, Zurbrugg Hospital,RNS Cancer Fund. Awards ...Womens Civic Club Stone Harbor. Art instructor, Art Depot/Merchantville. Gallery shows.... Markeim, Studio Gallery, Bauhaus Gallery.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Joanne JALAF4T@aol.com .

Judy DiPasquale

Judy DiPasquale is a devoted watercolor artist who studies under Ann May Kelly.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Judy judor3@hotmail.com .

Kevin Helmes

I am a local artist who loves taking photos of anything. I have over 20 years of experience in photography and always looking for the next thing or person to photograph. If you like my work feel free to contact me and I will be more than happy to help you add more artwork to your home. Facebook:
KevinTHelmesPhotography

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Kevin kthelmesphotography@gmail.com .

Laura Lyn Stern

Laura Lyn Stern is a Philadelphia based educator and mosaic artist. Her mixed media artwork utilizes both conventional and unconventional materials and skillful design approaches. Laura Lyn works with both project installation and object oriented pieces. She has designed collections for Metaphor Bronze Tile and Wilton Armetale in addition to showing her work in numerous exhibitions and galleries.

www.LauraLynStern.artspan.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Laura lauralynstern@gmail.com

Marcy Rosner

I have been making functional mosaics including frames, vases, mirrors and tables, for over 15 years and exhibited in many shows and galleries in the tri-state area. Commissions are welcome . I can do wonders with a broken shard or object needing transformation. www.mosaicsbymarcy.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Marcy mrosner1@comcast.net .

Marianne Leone

Marianne travels to national parks and beautiful landscapes to share the beauty of America and other great places, focusing on landscapes and wildlife. She has recently returned from a Wolf Expedition in Yellowstone. Marianne is currently being featured in a documentary about ordinary people causing the extraordinary to make a difference in the world. She is a member of National Wildlife Federation, World Wildlife Fund, National Parks Conservation Association, Defenders of Wildlife, The Nature Conservancy, Natural Resources Defense Council, Sierra Club, Outdoor Photographer, Sustainable Business Network of Greater Philadelphia, Philadelphia Photo Arts Center, Markeim Arts Center, and most proudly, America's First Zoo Camera Club. Featured here are a few of her national park iconic images on canvas. See all of the artist's work and various collections of wildlife and beautiful spaces by visiting her website marianneleone.com. Also check out her full exhibit ""The National Parks Through the Lens of Marianne Leone"" in late September at Markeim Arts Center.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Marianne marianne@marianneleone.com

Marlene Craig

I have been painting in South Jersey for many years. I do local scenes and shore scenes. Belong to 3 Art Clubs in area. Having a group show at Church St. Art Gallery in Mt. Holly from Jun 5 to Jul 22. Also can be seen at Elements Cafe in Haddon Heights. Facebook as Marlene Craig.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Marlene mrsraig2@verizon.net .

Matthew Davis

I don't think we capture images so much as become captivated by them as they pass through our eyes. I use photography as a way to share as many of those captivations as I can with others. There is remarkable beauty all around us every day and I hope to translate that into noticeable images through my camera. I grew up playing in the woods behind the Barclay Farmstead and learned to appreciate the details of what I found around me. Drawing and creating collages were a way of life for me as a kid. When I could be trusted with a camera, I started taking pictures. In high school and college, I added additional technical knowledge of the photographic process and have applied that as I continue to learn and grow as a Graphic Artist and Art Director in advertising in the Philadelphia and Princeton areas. I have kept my photography separate from my profession and purely my own so I can have it as an expression of what I see in the world around me as I travel through this life. Hopefully, sharing these images will engage people and stir some to notice things in life that may have been passing by.

Facebook.com/DavisWethamImageNation/

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Matthew DavisWetham@gmail.com .

Pat E. Fitzgerald

Pat E. Fitzgerald's artwork has been on exhibit in the National Arts Program at various locations in Camden County. In addition, many of her photographs have been on display at the Markeim Arts Center in Haddonfield. One of her passions, as reflected in her photographs, is to show close up images of flowers and other natural wonders. She also captured many well-loved attractions on the boardwalk at the Jersey Shore in her photographs.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Pat pfitzgerald420@aol.com.

Natalie La Torre-Sutherland

Natalie attended Moore College of Art where she studied fine art, design and art history. She attended Rowan University where she studied fiber arts and photography and earned dual degrees in education and fine art. She has dual teacher certifications in art education and elementary education. Natalie received a merit scholarship from Moore and was awarded an artist fellowship from the Barnes Foundation and Academy of Fine Art, where she was fortunate enough to study amongst world class paintings. Natalie's artistic inspiration comes from observing the simplicity in design from nature, animals, architecture and her surroundings. Her passion for photography led her to a high school teaching position at Cherry Hill High School East, where she taught darkroom and digital photography, the art of film, mixed media, pottery wheel and 3-D art. She has professional interior design consultation experience and offers her expertise in photo restoration as part of her art business services. Natalie proudly serves her community as a member of the Gibbsboro Environmental Commission, the Gibbsboro community garden and the Gibbsboro Green Team, where she has been instrumental in developing sustainable practices and most recently developed, took action and wrote a grant proposal for her town's community garden that received a prestigious $10,000.00 community garden grant. Natalie is a Voorhees business owner of Sutherland Framing & Fine Art, along with her husband, John. Her gallery and framing business services include: specialty custom framing, original and fine art editions, custom mirrors, design consultation, artisan jewelry and photo restoration. You can connect with Natalie and her business at: www.sutherlandframing.com or her Facebook page, <https://www.facebook.com/SutherlandFraming/>.

Rita Karpo

Rita is a certified art teacher, focusing on painting and drawing and has worked with Cherry Hill School system in the after school art program. Mabel Kay Senior Center in Haddonfield, displaying work in various places. Previously she was a private art teacher. Rita is a member of the She has currently shown her work at Expressit in Haddon Twp as the artist of the month.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Rita Ritakarpo@gmail.com.

Roberta L Rucker

I love to put an artistic spin on my photography to evoke a mood or memory common to all.

<https://fineartamerica.com/profiles/rl-rucker.html>

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Roberta

Rru2133192@aol.com .

Robin Brown

My name is Robin and I am a self taught photographer. I use an Olympus OMD EM1 and various lenses. I print on an Epson P800 inkjet printer. What I love about photography is meeting so many new people and learning to see every day ordinary things in a different way that peaks my curiosity. I have also been able to share my photos with others in many types of venues like gallery shows, my website and social media.

www.completelyphotos.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Robin vze81pgb@yahoo.com .

Sandra C. Davis

Sandra C. Davis is a photographer whose haunting imagery is about capturing remembered moments from the past, exploring history through photographing what remains from previous eras. Most of her work is printed using hand-coated alternative photographic processes. She received a BFA from Moore College of Art and her MFA in Book Arts/Printmaking from The University of the Arts. She teaches alternative photography classes at The University of the Arts, where she has been teaching for over fifteen years. She also teaches alternative photography workshops nationally and has taught darkroom and digital photography as well as history of photography.

www.sandracdavis.com .

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Sandra sandracdavis.photography@gmail.com .

Sara Ascalon

“What is it like being inside that head of yours?” I’ve always had a slightly off-beat way of looking at the world and have been asked that question many times over. But how do you respond to something like that? After decades of searching, I found my answer in photography. Photography allows me to reproduce my vision in a shareable, accessible form. Whether it’s the things I see with my eyes or my mind, I can capture a moment, a view, or a flight of fancy and relive it with those who honor me by coming along for the ride. From the things you see everyday and tend to overlook, to the absolutely extraordinary, it’s a strange and wonderful world. I seek to share that wonder – real and imagined – in my images and can finally say, “This. This is what it’s like inside this head of mine.”” www.facebook.com/ascalonphotography www.viewbug.com/member/saraascalon

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Sara sascalon@gmail.com .

Sharon Coyle

Sharon spent many enjoyable hours as a young child sketching her passion, horses. Over the years she ventured into painting with paint-by-numbers and then started doing her own paintings in oil when a neighbor and dear friend gave her a set of oil paints for her birthday. Her skills as an artist are mostly self taught. She has taken art classes in college while perusing a degree in computer graphics. She has also attended several painting workshops and classes given at local art centers. Her art work consist of commissioned animal portraits and original paintings of horses, dogs, cats, houses, landscape, seascapes, flowers and still life. She paints primarily in acrylics. Throughout the summer months she sells her paintings and prints at local art shows and has won numerous awards in art competitions. Currently she teaches acrylic painting classes at the local Hobby Lobbies, Williamstown Art Center and private lessons.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Sharon sacoyle1@verizon.net .

Stacey Jung

In this fast paced world, where time seems to fly by...I love how photography can capture one moment and remind us that there is still beauty all around. And how in the stillness of that one moment, captured in an image, we can experience love, joy, peace. When I look through the lens, my desire is to capture the amazing splendor and wonder of life to bring hope to others.

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Stacey stace312@gmail.com .

Susan Spitz

I am a photographer and would say that my favorite type of photography would have to be “nature and wildlife”. That is where my passion lies. I enjoy both capturing a beautiful landscape, as well as an intricate close-up of a bumblebee gathering nectar from a flower. Another interest is photographing architecture and objects from the past that have been forgotten, capturing their beauty and preserving their history through my camera. www.friendshipgarden.wix.com/friendshipgarden

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Susan bunnylace7@yahoo.com .

Tejal Shah

Tejal Shah is a self-taught artist taking inspiration from primitive paintings of the Warli and Saura tribes of India. She uses acrylics as well as the naturally occurring red oxide to paint simple geometric patterns that depict daily lives of these tribes. She has exhibited in various shows in New Jersey and her paintings are a part of many private collections. Facebook.com/tribalstrokes

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Tejal tejal_s@yahoo.com.

Toby Weitzman

Alcohol ink is my newest medium. They are brilliant inks that allow ever moving and constant glide of color, producing a unique and mysterious flow of unconventional beauty, unlike any other medium. No two pieces are alike. While abstract, often you will see landscapes, flowers, and how natural light effects contrast and shadows. While painting has always been a part of my life, my catering company allows me to design events and food art. tobyweitzman.com

Visit Sustainable Voorhees website (www.sustainablevoorhees.org) for more details about this artwork and a listing of all of the participating artists. If you are interested in purchasing this work, contact Toby tobyweitzman1@gmail.com .

